

ON-SITE SERVICES

Is your work environment reaching its maximum potential? Is it safe? Christie Clinic's Department of Occupational Health Services offers exclusive on-site evaluations that will help your company reduce lost time, medical costs, injury rates, and the use of outside health care providers.

We understand that no business is the same. That's why we create precise, tailor-made programs designed to help corporations reach a higher level of success.

On-Site Job Task Reviews

Christie's occupational health professionals perform on-site job task reviews for work conditions involving strenuous or complex job tasks. These tests help identify details in an individual's work habits that may cause or contribute to their difficulties. We also take time to address ergonomic issues, finding safer, less expensive ways to conduct job assignments. These economical reviews are designed to meet your needs. Whether you want company-wide analyses or individual tests, our programs benefit businesses big and small.

On-site job task analysis is particularly useful for situations involving temporarily modified duties, non-compensable employee claims, or delayed return-to-work schedules.

On-Site Health Education Programs

Christie's on-site programs help workers understand how to perform their jobs safely, emphasizing the correct mechanics for physical activities that require lifting, grasping, carrying, pulling, and pushing. Our programs include everything from pre-work stretching exercises to job-specific interactive seminars. Custom wellness programs, such as health fairs, are also available.

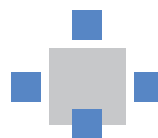

Plus, our on-site mobile services give employers the opportunity to conveniently promote employee health. Our Department of Occupational Health Services offers an unparalleled range of screening options including flu shots, audio and vision testing, pulmonary function tests, DOT examinations, drug testing, and more. In addition, our mobile services will also travel to schools to provide physical examinations.

At Christie Clinic, we believe that health and safety go beyond the workplace as well. That's why we also offer our services to employee family members, encouraging overall physical and mental wellness both on the job and at home.
