

Meet Your Optometrist

Nathan Crouch, OD

The eyes are not only a window into your soul, but can also be a window into your systemic health. Through eye exams patients can be found to have Diabetes, Hypertension, and Multiple Sclerosis. Working with other healthcare professionals to keep a patient seeing well and physically healthy is a very rewarding part of my profession.

Why I Chose Health Care

"Eye care is a fascinating field of healthcare. Not only do I get to help people see better, but I also get to work together with other healthcare professionals on systemic diseases that relate to the visual system. Helping patients improve their vision and quality of life is a rewarding part of my profession."
