In the Departments of Internal Medicine & Pediatrics, Dr. Pogue provides comprehensive medical care for patients of all ages with an emphasis on wellness and preventative care.

Some of my hobbies include cooking, playing banjo and basketball, and competing in triathlons. My wife, Colleen, and I have four daughters, and we love going out to eat in some of our community's many great restaurants, as well as hiking and singing together.

I strongly believe in preventive medicine, and especially in the power of healthy diet and exercise to prevent and treat many diseases.
