Department of Cardiology

In the Department of Cardiology, Dr. Kamin specializes in general cardiology, with an emphasis in prevention and diagnostic testing. He uses non-invasive procedures like nuclear stress testing, echocardiography, and Holter monitoring, to identify heart problems and detect diseases.

I enjoy spending time with my family, playing games and putting puzzles together. In my spare time, I like to read, exercise and cook. I also love music and play the saxophone and recently started learning how to play the cello.
